MRS. GILMORE SHOOTS MRS. SHIPPS, ACCUSED OF BREAKING UP HOME

Woman Despondent Over Family Affairs Fires Four Shots Into Victim As She Checks Her Baggage for Trip to Kansas City, Killing Her Instantly

Mrs. Clemma E. Gilmore shot and killed Mrs. Ella Shipps at 8:03 o'clock this morning at the Burlington station.

Mrs. Shipps arrived at the Burlington station, where she had been driven, it is said, by Q. A. Gilmore, husband of Mrs. Gilmore, and came into the seation to buy her ticket to Kansas City, where she, with her daughter, Miss Marie Shipps, was going to visi her son, Homer Shipps. She made the purchase and stepped to the baggage window to have her suit case checked.

Just as she reached for her ticket Mrs. Gilmore rushed up to her, placed a 32-caliber revolver close to her back and shot her twice. Mrs. Shipps turned around. Mrs. Gilmore fired twice more, one bullet entering the right arm and one the left breast.

She staggered forward and exclaimed, "O, my God, she has shot me." Then she fell to the floor, dying instantly. Dr. Vilas Martin was called, but finding her beyond aid, he called Dr. Frank Wallis in the absence of the coroner, Dr. Will Wallis, Jr.

In the meantime Mrs. Gilmore walked rapidly out of the waiting room, entered a jitney which she had in waiting and directed the driver, "Doc" Cummins, to take her to the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Gilmore Goes to Sheriff.

Arriving at the court house she entered and waited a few minutes. Bert Mack, deputy sheriff, came in a few moments later. He found Mrs. Gilmore waiting outside of the office. She said: "I want to give myself up. I have killed Mrs. Shipps." Mr. Mack then took her down to the county jail.

Mrs. Gilmore was married December 13, 1888, and has one married daughter, Mrs. Glenna Hitchcock. On February 4 she applied for a divorce, charging that her husband had been in the company of other women, and that "he permitted a certain woman to occupy a house belonging to him for the past ten months without rent." The petition was too late for the April term of court, so the case was carried over and is to come up for settlement at the September term. Mr. Gilmore is the owner of the Star livery barn in this city.

Mrs. Shipps Divorcee.

Mrs. Shipps is divorced from her husband, Harry Shipps. She applied for divorce, charging desertion and lewdness in 1910, but dismissed the case. Then she applied for divorce a second time, and it was granted in the 1915 term of court. Mr. Shipps was formerly night policeman in Maryville, and moved a few years ago to Bozeman, Mont., where he has lived since.

Mrs. Shipps has been housekeeper for Tom Martin, living on West Fifth street, for the last year. Previous to that she kept a boarding house on Second street. She has two daughters, Mrs. George Palfreyman and Miss Marie Shipps, and one son, Homer Shipps, who works for an automobile company in Kansas City, and with whom Mrs. Shipps and her daughter were going to spend two weeks, leaving on this morning's train.

Mrs. Gilmore Despondent.

It is said that Mrs. Gilmore had been despondent for some time over family troubles. This morning just before time for the Burlington train she hailed Fred Diss and asked him to take her to the Burlington station.

She said that a friend was coming in on the 7:52 train. When she arrived at the station she asked Mr. Diss to wait for her. He said that since the train was late he had not intended to wait, but that he would have "Doc" Cummins wait for her. He left her sitting in the women's waiting room at the station, and just as she was leaving he saw Mrs. Shipps over on the east side of the platform.

It seems Mrs. Gilmore accused Mrs. Shipps of being the cause of the separation with her husband, and had worried over the matter considerably. Reports are to the effect that Mrs. Gilmore had trailed Mrs. Shipps on a number of occasions, and that just last evening a woman in men's clothing was seen in the neighborhood where Mrs. Shipps lived.

Would Pap Penalty.

After the shooting Mrs. Gilmore said:

"I know what I've done and I am ready to pay the penalty."

No further statement could be secured from her, as she was advised by her attorneys, Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison, not to talk.

The coroner's inquest will be held in the morning, Coroner Will Wallis, Jr., announced this afternoon, upon his return from a trip to Blanchard, Ia. Prosecuting Attorney W. G. Sawyers will have charge.

Mrs. Shipps' daughter, Mrs. George Palfreyman, Jr., with her husband, left this morning on the Wabash train for Shenandoah, Ia., where Mr. Palfreyman was to play in the ball game there this afternoon with the Maryville team. They will return to Maryville this evening.

Mrs. Shipps was 46 years old, and was born and reared in Nodaway county. Besides her children she is survived by her father, William X. Smith, who lives in Maryville, and by three brothers, Fred Smith of Kansas City, Ollie Smith of St. Joseph and Claud Smith of Boston.

Sheriff Ed Wallace with F. W. Bourck of Grant, Ia., went to Elmo this morning and found Mr. Bourck's Ford car there in the possession of Orville Hallsa, a mail carrier out of the Elmo postoffice, who had purchased the car from Elmer Hamilton. The authorities here are making an investigation. Mr. Hamilton claims he bought the car from a farmer living near Maryville and paid $325 in cash for it.

GEORGE ROBB ELLISON BACK

Country Members of Committee Put an End to Buchanan County Row by Defeating St. Joseph Man.

George Robb Ellison, who was elected yesterday as a member of the Democratic state committee from this congressional district, returned to Maryville today at noon. T. J. Lysaght, a bitter opponent of the Crandall and Major forces of St. Joseph, was a candidate for committeeman, and was defeated by Henry Dillingham of Platte county.

The country members of the congressional committee thought that neither faction should be recognized in St. Joseph, and the two members should be elected from outside of that city who were not lined up with either faction. To elect Lysaght, they said, would mean a continuation of the row in Buchanan county between the Crandell and anti-Crandell forces.

Two Petitions for Divorce.

Two petitions for divorce were filed in the office of the circuit clerk this morning. Permelia Inglis wants a divorce from George Inglis, charging desertion, and Alois Remele wants a divorce from Nellie Remele, also charging desertion. The first couple lives in Maryville and the second recently resided in or near Conception.

Clum Price returned today from Chicago, where he has been for the past few weeks.

NO SELECTION MADE

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE STILL DEADLOCK.

TO MEET NEXT MONDAY

And if No Selections for Members of State Committee, Matter Will Be Put Up to State Committee.

The Republican congressional committee was unable to elect the members of the Republican state committee at their session hel dthis morning. After a number of ballots had been taken adjournment was taken by the committee until next Monday afternoon, when they will meet in St. Joseph. If the committee is still deadRepublican state committee, which lock the fight will be taken to the will meet in Jefferson City next Tuesday for the purpose of organizing. Fifty-five ballots had been taken.

John Albus and Walter Head of St. Joseph are the two from that city that are seeking the membership on the committee. The vote today was Albus 5, Head 5.

It was practically agreed that Will F. Phares of Maryville would be the outside member of the committee, but since Nodaway county is voting against Aibus, who has the control of the five votes on the congressional committee from Buchanan county, Albus is making efforts to defeat Phares.

The Tuesday session of the committee ended at midnight, after a heated controversy which tested the endurance of both factions. The hitch was on the member from Buchanan county. Up to the thirty-fourth ballot the vote was a tie, 5 to 5, between John Albus and Walter W. Head. On the thirty-fourth ballot the name of C. U. Philley was substituted for that of Head, and the vote stood 5 for Albus and 5 for Head.

In order to break the deadlock a motion was made for Buchanan county to step out of the race and give both places on the state committee to the outside counties, but the motion failed to carry. All through the controversy Albus had the solid Buchanan county delegation behind him. His opponent had the counties of Andrew, Atchison, Holt, Nodaway and Platte. The deadlock began almost with the start of the meeting at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

W. R. Tilson of this city, the Nodaway county member, presented the motion that one member of the state committee should be selected from Buchanan county, and that another be selected from the other counties, the Buchanan county committeeman to be chosen first. This motion unanimously carried.

FIRST GUN IN JITNEY FIGHT

Fred Diss and C. E. McClain Arrested and Fined for Fighting at Burlington Station.

Fred Diss and C. E. McClain, both jitney drivers, were arrested and fined by Mayor Robey for fighting at the Burlington station last evening. McClain claimed that Diss crowded too far over, leaving no room for passengers to get in McClain's car. McClain struck Diss, and the latter and threw him down.

There has been trouble among some of the jitney drivers at the station for places, and it was thought for a time that it would be necessary to have the buses and all jitney cars parked outside of the station parkway, which belongs to the railroad companies.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

President Wilson will confer with 640 members of the general committee of the brotherhoods tomorrow. This committee has full power to settle anything.

Petrograd, Aug. 16.—General Brusiloff, of the Russian armies is again attacking all along the line in Galicia, but the hardest blows driven home were at the ends of the line. The new perils of the Austrian armies, which has been brought about by the latest turn of the Russian activities, account for the hasty departure of the Kaiser for the Russian theatre, where he is conferring with Von Hindenburg.

LACK OF ISSUES IN THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN.

Perhaps never before in the history of this country have the points at issue in a presidential campaign been so indistinctly defined as at present. This obscuration is so marked that to one who is not in close touch with political conditions it must seem as if there actually is little or no difference in the views of the candidates of the two great parties, and as little in their platforms.

This, perhaps, explains in a large way the very evident drift toward Wilson which followed the national conventions, and has lasted down to the present time. The Hughes trip across the continent, now in full progress, is expected to stop this movement, but if the speeches that Mr. Hughes is yet to make are not more convincing than those he has made, the Republicans will go down to the real beginning of the campaign, in mid September, with almost nothing done to forward their cause.

Political historians are pointing out that there is a similarity between the position of the Republican party now and that of the Democratic party in 1864. The Democrats in the second Lincoln campaign had become merely a party of protest, of criticism; they had nothing to offer that was better than what the Republicans were doing, and so their campaign lacked persuasiveness. Their criticism was destructive, not constructive, and all they had to offer in place of the Republican program was to declare the war a failure.

The campaign of the Republicans is a campaign of destructive criticism. They have thus far nothing to offer in the place of what the Democrats under Wilson have been doing. On the contrary, their platform is quite like that of the Democrats in essential particulars, and while they denounce the Democratic administration in their speeches, they do not say what they would have done had they been clothed with power during the last few years.

All this means that the Republicans now, like the Democrats in 1864, are without an issue, and unless Mr. Hughes, in the speaking tour he is now making, can find one that will command the attention of the country he will have nothing to offer the voters that they may not hope to get under Wilson. The great need of the Republicans, then, is for an issue. It is difficult to galvanize the tariff into life, for the tariff is a hard times issue and is worth little when the dinner pails are full. Panic legislation, rural credits, child labor, workingmen's compensation—these and various other constructive things have been attended to, or will be by the time the present session adjourns. For the first time in the history of the G. O. P. it is without a clear cut issue on which to make a popular appeal. Of course, something may yet appear to favor the Hughes side. There is no telling.—St. Joseph News-Press.

HAY FEVER TIME SN

MYSTERIOUS HUMAN AILMENT IS KNOWN AS "ROSE COLD."

SCIENCE FINDS RELIEF

Dr. M. P. Ravenel Gives Instructions for Cure of Dreaded Disease—Vaccination and Weed Killing.

Yesterday, Aug. 15, was a day of woe, wrath and disgust in the lives of thousands of citizens. It marked the beginning of the hay fever season. Hay fever is one of the most mysterious of human ailments in that no specific cure, or legitimate relief, has yet been discovered for it. Neither has its cause been determined accuratly.

Theoretically, the distressed victim is induced to wheeze, snort, weep, sneeze and trumpet because the air at this season of the year is filled with the pollen of the plants of the largest of all botanical orders, compositae, the composites, so-called because of the e pluribus unum structure of their flowers, each flower being composed of myriads of smaller flowers united in one head.

Hay fever is a paradoxical disease in that the plants supposed to cause it do not properly belong in a first class hay crop. The ragweed is most popularly blamed. This vegetable is a scientific joke. In naming it the savant is detected in lighter mood. It is known to botanists as ambrosia, the Greek translation being food for the gods. A more disreputable, ill kempt, dirty looking roadside weed does not exist. It has not even enough character as a weed to be much of a nuisance.

"There are few diseases which cause more discomfort and real suffering than that known as hay fever, hay asthma or rose cold," says Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the department of preventive medicine of the University of Missouri. Dr. Ravenel says the symptoms come on with sneezing and watering of the eyes, resembling in many ways the symptoms of an acute cold, though it is much more prolonged and the degree more intense. Oftentimes it is accompanied by asthma.

It has been the most difficult of all diseases to prevent and cure, and it is only recently that the cause of it has been found. It has now been definitely proved that hay fever is due to the pollens of various plants. The most common of these are probably golden rod, timothy grass and rag week. The albuminous portion of the pollen produces the disease. Some people are susceptible to various pollens and some are not, as they have either become immunized or else they have not the peculiar sensitiveness to the albuminous constituents of the pollen. The disease is periodical, coming on each year, almost on the same day.

Researches have made possible the discovery of a vaccine for the prevention of the disease which is quite successful. Much relief can be given by this department and in the majority of cases the attack can be warded off. Vaccines are now on the market usually put up in little tubes containing [illegible] with directions for injection [illegible] the skin. SUBMARINE HUNT.

To Test Efficiency of Civilian Motorboats In Wartime.

MANEUVERS SEPT. 5 TO 12.

Any Craft That Carries Three Passengers and Has a Twenty-four Hour Radius Is Eligible—Will Learn Mine Planting and Signal Work.

Washington.—Great importance is being attached to the maneuvers of the motorboats in connection with the naval training cruise of civilians under the guidance of officials of the navy department. It is expected that at least 500 owners of motorboats will respond to the call for the mobilization of such craft on Sept. 5. The maneuvers will continue until Sept. 12.

Motorboats of any size that are capable of carrying at least three passengers and have a cruising radius of twenty-four hours are eligible to enroll. The boats, divided into three classes, will do patrolling, mine planting and sweeping, scouting, defending ships from attack, countermining and signaling.

TYPES OF CRAFT TO BE IN MANEUVERS.

Three districts have been set aside for the mobilization. One lies south of Barnegat and includes Philadelphia; another is from Barnegat to New London, which includes the craft in New York waters, and the third is the territory east of New London, in which Boston is included. Great Britain has used motorboats against submarines effectively.

GIRL A HOMESTEADER.

Miss Briggs Will Raise Fruit Upon Land She Pre-empted.

Mountain Home, Ark.—Miss Nettie Rogers, eighteen years old, has filed a homestead claim on 150 acres of land on Flint ridge and will engage in fruit raising and truck farming.

Miss Rogers is a recent graduate from the Monticello Agricultural school. She is also the youngest homesteader in this part of the state and one of the very few women who have manifested the grit to attempt to cultivate a rough mountain tract of land anywhere in this vicinity.

Her homestead is adaptable to fruit and truck growing, and Miss Rogers believes that what she learned at the Monticello school, sustained by the personal effort that she is prepared to apply to cultivation of the soil, will bring an adequate reward.

LEAVES PRAYER FOR SON.

New York Woman, In Will, Hopes For His Future.

New York.—After leaving the bulk of her property to her son, Arthur Edward Schifferman, Mrs. Eugenie Schifferman, who died in her home in this city, wrote this prayer in her will, which was filed recently in the surrogate's court:

"May my money, which I have earned and saved up during long years of toil and struggle, bring good luck and happiness to my dearly beloved son Arthur, and may it help him to fully regain his health and to lead a good, useful life. God bless my dearest boy. I beseech my dear brothers to help and guide him in a loving and forgiving spirit."

FEEDS 5,100 CATTLE.

Buys Them In New Mexico and Fattens Them on His Ranch.

Centralia, Kan.—Henry Skinner, one of Centralia's boys, has on full feed now on his ranch near Medicine Lodge 5,100 head of cattle.

Skinner goes down into New Mexico, buys up a big bunch of native animals, brings them up to his ranch, grasses them awhile and then puts them on feed. The cattle have to be taught to eat the grain, which is done by gradually mixing the grain with alfalfa.

FOR BETTER LIVE STOCK

College of Agriculture Plans Poster Campaign in the Interests of High Class Animals.

Five thousand posters have been distributed by the animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri in Carroll and Johnson counties as a forerunner of a campaign in the interest of better live stock.

The College of Agriculture will begin the coming campaign in Carroll county August 2, in co-operation with the live stock organizations in that county. Meetings will be held, at which the farmer will be shown the difference between stock raised from a good sire and stock from the usual "scrub." There will also be meetings in co-operation with the farmrs' advisory bureaus, at which the University will furnish the speakers.

During the campaign the department of animal husbandry will endeavor to get a record of all farmers who have pure bred sires at the head of their herds and those who have not. This will help to ascertain the real results of the work.

WOMEN MAIL CARRIERS

In Berlin, the Women Are Taking the Positions of Men Who Have Gone to War.

Berlin, August 16.—The German capital now has over one thousand female mail carriers and more than a hundred of the wagons and automobiles of the postoffice are driven by women.

The number of the female employes of the street railways has increased to more than 4,000. About three hundred women have taken the places of the motormen called to the front and the remaining 3,700 are acting as conductors, starters, inspectors and clerks. They perform their work in a satisfactory manner and the public likes the polite and patient "lady conductors" very much.

Maxwell cars have greater, actual, delivered horsepower, per pound of weight, than any car built.

POWER must be reckoned in reference to the weight involved. This is the big underlying truth that is often overlooked in careless statements about horsepower.

We repeat that Maxwell cars have greater horsepower, per pound of weight, than any car built.

This has been proved within the last six months by four competitive tests made in the two leading scientific schools of the United States.

The point for you to remember is this:

Maxwell cars will take you anywhere that any car will take you and they'll take you as fast as you'll dare to travel.

We are ready to prove any and all of our statements.

Return From New York.

Mrs. Lavencour Michau of this city, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Frank Shoemaker, Jr., and small son Jacque, of Oklahoma City, Okla., arrived in Maryville at noon today from New York City. They have been guests of Mrs. Michau's daughter, Mrs. Edward H. Williams, and Dr. Williams while in New York.

On account of the strict care taken to prevent the spread of infantile paralysis in New York the travelers experience some little difficulty in getting away, and were allowed to depart only when a physician's certificate was obtained. Mrs. Shoemaker and son will spend several weeks with Maryville relatives.

PARCEL POST INCREASES

Maryville Shows Approximate Gain of 25 Per Cent—New Insurance Ruling.

That the parcel post as a carrier service is meeting with increasing popularity is proved by the figures just issued by the government. Estimate of the parcel post for Maryville for July show an approximate increase of 25 to 30 per cent increase over the same period last year. The incoming parcel post shows a greater increase than that of the outgoing parcel post. The greater increase of the incoming parcel post is attributed to the fact that the outside firms are taking advantage of the lower rates that the parcel post offers. Especially in the second and first zones is the rate much cheaper than by other carrier services.

A new ruling by the government has lately placed a more complete insurance on articles sent through the parcel post service. Before the payment of indemnity on account of injury has been restricted to irreparable damage to articles or to complete loss. Under the amended regulations payment will be made in cases where articles are not rendered worthless for the actual, usual, direct and necessary repairs required to place them in a serviceable condition.

Figures of the weights of parcel post mail, taken in all of the first and second class postoffices in the country and at representative postoffices of the third class, have just been compiled by the government and show the growth of the parcel post business.

The weighing has been done for a period of fifteen days in April and October of each year, beginning in 1913, and tables have just been completed for the use of the committee of postoffices and post roads of the senate, but which are also of interest to the public.

As an indication of the development of the parcel post service during two years of the operation of this service, while a total of 10,900,000 parcels, weighing 18,600,000 pounds, were placed in the mails at the fifty largest postoffices of the United States between Oct. 1 and Oct. 15, 1913, the figures of the department show that during the corresponding period of 1915 the number of parcels mailed at these offices had increased to 30,900,000, with a total weight of 41,800,000 pounds. The combined postage on these shipments amounted to $1,800,000, as compared with $1,000,000 on the earlier date. Similar increases are noted in the tables indicating the quantities of parcels received at the various offices.

ALL ANIMALS ARE ACTORS.

Every Wild Animal With the Robinson Circus Are Actors.

Never before in the history of the circus business has such a display of educated wild animals been exhibited as can be found with the Yankee Robinson three-ring wild animal circus this season. Animals carry on almost the entire performance. Not oly are the wild animals displayed in steel bound arenas in teh big tent in all kinds of acts and tricks, but the performance has lost none of the old favorite stunts of the circus we have all visited every year. Clowns by the dozen, led by such international favorites as Billy Jamieson, Freddy Gay, Eddie Dorie, Joe Marvello and a host of fun makers who have no peer, keep the audience in a continual uproar.

Two trains of cars, a herd of elephants and camels, a complete carnival company, a wild animal display with every animal an actor, a wild west performance led by im Kinney—the world's greatest bucking horse rider, the finest horses ever exhibited—in fact, the greatest and most satisfying performance ever offered, is the promise of Yankee Robinson. This tremendous aggregational of shows will exhibit in Maryville Wednesday, August 23.

NEWSPAPERS REDUCE SIZE.

Kansas City Joins Others in the Effort to Conserve the Waning White Paper Supply.

The Kansas City newspaper publishers at a meeting held August 10 decided unanimously to reduce the size of their papers. Avoidance of printed and white waste in press and distribution rooms as well as the cutting off of returns had already been put into effect by the Kansas City publishers.

The Kansas City publishers join with the publishers of New York and Philadelphia in urging immediate action on the part of every publisher in the country to do everything in his power to economize in the consumption of white paper in his office. In no other way is it possible to obtain relief from the present scarcity of white paper.

When father was a little boy he must have been his father's joy. From what he says, I know, by jing, he never did a naughty thing. He always had his lessons good, and helped his father saw the wood, and filled the woodbox piled up full, and all the garden weeds did pull. He went to church and Sunday school, instead of swimming in the pool. He never dirtied up his clothes, and always kept a nice clean nose. He combed his hair back smooth and slick; they never had to use a stick to make him do a single thing, and while he worked he'd always sing. He said "yes, sir," and "no, sir," too, and always was polite to you. He never used bad, naughty words, and never robbed the little birds. He said his prayers at bed each night before his mamma took the light, and he was not one bit afraid, for he was good and always prayed. He shared his candy and his toys with forty little girls and boys. He never told one little fib, or smashed a boy in the rib. You bet he was a crackerjack; he never sassed or talked right back. He always acted No. 1. Dad was a regular son-of-a-gun.—Eagleville correspondent of the Bethany Republican.

A Ray county coal miner spends all his spare time painting pictures. He spent twelve years in an art school and has a large collection of canvasses which have received complimentary notice by the Richmond Missourian. One day last week, says the Lineville Tribune, Mrs. George Hooker went to the door to look after her little 2-year old son, who was playing about the yard, when she was terrified to see him at the top of a windmill tower 30 feet from the ground, where he was disporting himself in infantile glee as he toddled about the narrow platform. Without a moment's hesitation she called to him reassuringly and climbed to the platform, where she clasped the baby in her arms and descended safely to the ground. A couple of the lower rounds of the ladder have now been removed and a wide board fastened above the gap which will put a stop to the little fellow's aerial journeys hereafter.

There is no use going to Canada and enduring the hardships of a long winter climate to get land that will pay for itself with one crop, says W. M. Noah, living southwest of Goshen. Mercer county will do even better. On ten acres, which cost him $400, Mr. Noah had a field of oats last year. It produced 60 bushels to the acre and sold for 80 cents a bushel. Thus, on land that cost him $400 he got $480 for last year's crop. Mr. Noah is not going to chase any rainbows as long as he can do this well in Mercer county.—Princeton Post.

King City has its share of political honors at this time, says the Democrat, by having the Republican nominee for congress, the Democratic nominee for state senator, the present representative in the state legislature, probate judge of Gentry county, Democratic member of the electoral college, chairman of the Democratic central committee, and last, but not least, one Democratic postmaster, and several others who think they ought to have been appointed, including the Democrat editor!

King City has pledged the money and ordered the crude oil for its streets and expects to have a carload of the oil applied to its thoroughfares in time for chautauqua.

The manager of the telephone office at Union Star is in sore staits. Through the Herald last week he issued this appeal to his patrons: "Unless those knowing themselves in arrears for long distance toll service call at the central office when in town and come across with the dough, we shall be obliged in the near future to place a second mortgage on our Sunday suit. We do not cherish this move; in fact, are averse to it; yet, if no heed be taken to this warning we will be forced to take this step."

Road boosters in the locality of Union Star have started a movement for the oiling of the streets and roads at that place. The sort of oiling proposed, says the Herald, is to dig up the street to the depth of a foot and thoroughly oil the surface layer, the object being to keep the moisture down as well as off the surface. The cost of such a system is estimated at $800 to $1000 a mile.

At Rock Port the other day the sheriff arrested a suspicious looking young man who had appeared there with a team of horses supposed to have been stolen. He was placed in jail, but no evidence could be found that the team did not rightfully belong to him, so on the advise of the county attorney he was released. He immediately left town, without the team, however, which has convinced the authorities that their first suspicions were justified. It has since been learned that the horses were stolen in Holt county, and were the property of Cunningham Bros., of Rulo. On Friday following his release at Rock Port the thief was captured near Mamlin, Kan., by Geo. E. Gelvin, sheriff of Holt county, at the end of a 200-mile chase.

A patch of ground, just 10x35 feet, produced two and a half bushels of onions for P. H. Bush of Albany, says the Capital. Just a little figuring has shown Bush that this crop amounts to 310 bushels an acre (supposing he planted an acre) and that makes him well satisfied with Missouri soil.

Savannah hopes soon to be granted a third city carrier by the postoffice department. An inspector recently made the rounds with one of the two men now carrying Savannah's mail and saw him distribute 1600 pieces of mail weighing over 200 pounds in a single day's work. The Savannah Democrat assures its readers that there is sufficient reason to believe that another carrier will soon be added.

Andrew county's school population has decreased within the last year from 4093 to 4037—a loss of 58.

This sounds like old times, says the Maitland Herald: Last week W. H. Wright accompanied his wife to Rochester, Minn., for a surgical operation, although the small grain on the farm was badly in need of attention. When he returns he will find the wheat all threshed and safe in the granary, thanks to the volunteer work of good neighbors.

If this had happened last week when forty ministers were here one might not need to wonder who did it; but when Saturday night two choice yellow-legged fowls disappeared mysteriously from H. A. Briscoe's coops and more than twice that many from Dr. Hull's, one begins to speculate as to who in Camden Point is hungry enough to commit a penitentiary offense to get a week's feast on chickens.—Camden Point Dictagraph.
